

IF HE'D ASKED MORE YOUTH MIGHT HAVE MADE HIS GETAWAY

But He Wanted to Sell Stolen
Auto so Cheap that Suspicion Was Aroused

PAGES JUDGE BRINDLEY IN COURT THIS AFTERNOON

Claims Man Told Him He Had Purchased Car from Owner

Joseph Charles, 17-year-old Morehead, Minn., youngster, had had a car which he might still be free, instead of facing Judge Brindley in the county court here this afternoon to answer a charge of auto stealing.

Joseph attempted to sell a big six-cylinder car in brand new condition to a Minneapolis garage last week for a couple hundred dollars, and the price was so low the garage owner asked the police to investigate.

Minneapolis police came, Charles went out the rear entrance of the garage, and finally surrendered after one of his pursuers took a shot at him. Then the police investigated, and found that the big car he was trying to sell had been stolen from La Crosse two weeks ago. It is the property of Thomas Thompson of Houston, Minn., and was abstracted from Second and Main streets while its owner was shopping in the city.

Charles was arrested last week in Minneapolis, and undersheriff Ed Miller brought him back to the city last Wednesday. His case came to trial in county court this afternoon.

The youth declared that a man with whom he was riding in Minneapolis from Chicago on his way home, told him in La Crosse that the car had been stolen from Minneapolis, and asked him to drive it to Minneapolis. He said he followed the other man's car to a point in Minnesota, and then he told him, taking a wrong turn at a cross roads. When he couldn't find the other fellow, Charles said, he went on to Minneapolis.

AMERICAN AVIATOR GIVEN HIGH HONOR FOR POLISH SERVICE

WARSAW, Sept. 15.—By The Associated Press.—Major Cedric Paun-dery of Chicago, Illinois, commander of the Kosciuszko squadron, in charge of air forces on the southern front during the recent belsherk
offensive, was decorated with the highest Polish military cross by President Piusinski today.

It was announced that Major Paundery had been authorized to increase the Kosciuszko squadron
which is made up chiefly of American airmen, and that immediate steps would be taken to recruit twenty-four aviators from the United States.

INDICTMENT OF U. S. JUDGES THREATENED BY ANTI-SALOONISTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A committee was appointed today at the Anti-Saloon league conference
here to draft a resolution warning
federal judges that unless they
"sincerely perform their sacred duties"
in enforcing prohibition laws the league will seek their impeachment.

Charges were made that some federal judges had "ceded bootleggers and moonshiners," and that prohibition laws were being made "a joke" in some sections by the light punishment.

OFFICIAL RETURNS GIVE LENROOT LEAD OF 22,294 OVER SENATE OPPONENTS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 15.—
Official returns reported today to the election committee from sixty-seven out of seventy-one counties of the state showed the following vote on United States senator:

Lenroot, 158,263; Thompson, 135,969; McHenry, 42,986; Len-
root's plurality, 22,294.

An analysis of the returns

shows that of the sixty-seven counties tabulated, Lenroot carried thirty-six, Thompson, carried thirty, and McHenry, one.

Lenroot received more votes
than McHenry and Thompson in twenty-three counties. Thompson received more votes than McHenry and Lenroot in nineteen counties. Lenroot piled up his majority in the larger cities
of the state, the returns show.

POLITICS POP IN U. S.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 15.—Primary
—Republican and democratic candidates for United States senator, representatives, governor and nearly twenty other state offices were balloted
today by men and women in Illinois today. The bitter campaign which developed between two factions in the republican party was expected to result in the largest vote
in the state's history.

The republican factional fight centered around the ticket headed by Leo Small of Kankakee and supported by Mayor Thompson of Chicago,
to which was opposed that headed by John G. Oglesby, lieutenant governor, supported by Governor Low-den.

Two other republicans, Oscar S.
Cardstrom of Aleo and Edward N.
Woodruff of Peoria, are seeking the republican gubernatorial nomination.

The principal senatorial fight on the republican ticket was between Representative W. B. McKinley of Champaign, favored by Lowden and Frank L. Smith of Dwight, a congressman supported by Thompson.

Seeking the democratic nomination
for governor was James Hamilton
Lewis, former senator, opposed by Barrett O'Hara, former lieutenant governor. The democratic senatorial race lay between Robert Emmet Burke of Chicago and Peter A. Walter of Kewanee.

Among republican members of congress seeking re-nomination was
"Uncle Sam" Cannon of Danville, 84-
year-old veteran of twenty-two campaigns.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 15.—
On the face of scattered returns from yesterday's democratic primary in Louisiana, compiled by The Times-Picayune, Representative Sanders
had a slight lead over his two opponents—Edwin S. Broussard and Donaldson Cuffey—for the senatorial nomination.

The successful candidate will enter the November election—seeking the seat of Senator Gay, who was not a candidate for re-election.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Republican and democratic candidates, who received endorsement of the unofficial state convention at Saratoga, won decisive victories in all contests in yesterday's New York state primary.

With 2,549 districts missing out of 7,274, Nathan L. Miller, republican, of Syracuse, former judge of the state
court of appeals, led State Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara, by 77,782 votes for the gubernatorial nomination. Senator Thompson's name, however, will appear on the ballot in November as prohibition candidate for governor.

Governor Alfred E. Smith was renominated without opposition by the democrats.

United States Senator James W.
Wadsworth Jr., candidate for re-nomination won an easy victory over Mrs. Ella F. Boole, state president of

DRIVES CAR ON STARTER; HELD OUT OF HIS MIND

Driving an automobile for two blocks on the self-starter, Harry Farnam, Sparta, student at the W. B. U.
was taken in tow by the police today and found to be suffering from temporary mental derangement. Farnam was taken to central station and a doctor was summoned. Farnam collapsed when arrested.

Farnam was first noticed by the police when he entered the automobile of George Lushington, which was parked in front of Warner's barber shop on Third street. Being unable to start the motor, Farnam abandoned
the car and went in search of another, telling his friends that he wanted to go to Sparta.

Farnam then wandered up State street and getting into a Chevrolet
streaked near the Modern laundry, stepped on the starter and drove to Fourth and Vine streets, where he was stopped by the police. Authorities immediately summoned a doctor,
who pronounced Farnam to be suffering from mental derangement. It is believed that his ailment was caused from over-study in his school work, police said.

Doctor Declares Student is Men- tally Deranged After His Adventure

Had Not Been Asked Previously
Because of Ill Health
Says Harrison

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—President
Wilson will be requested to participate actively in the present national campaign, Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the democratic national committee announced today.

The reason President Wilson had not previously been asked to lend his aid to Cox and Roosevelt, Senator Harrison explained, was that the president's health was not thought to be good enough to permit his indulgence in the ardor of a campaign.

"We certainly do want the president to do all he can and have received assurances that his accord with the democratic ticket is of the heartiest," Senator Harrison said.

"We were, surprised, however, to learn from a newspaper item today
that there was some likelihood of President Wilson doing some speaking. There is nothing we would like better. I shall get in touch with the president immediately soliciting his aid in whatever form he deems most advisable and expedient."

WILSON ASKED TO TAKE ACTIVE PART IN THE CAMPAIGN

TWO LICENSES FOR MARRIAGE ISSUED BY COUNTY CLERK

Marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Bert A. Jolyette yesterday to Lawrence Wench and Esther Niedbalski, and Leon Le Leure and Dorothy Kelly. All of the parties are residents of the city.

INJURY TO LIVESTOCK CAUSES BIG LOSS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15.—
—Bruises sustained by livestock in transit from the farm to the packing house caused a loss last year of millions of pounds of meat and a monetary loss approaching $15,000,000, according to a report submitted today to the annual meeting of the Institute of American Meat Packers.

ANNOUNCE CONCERT IN RIVERSIDE PARK ON THURSDAY NIGHT

Another of the city's series of band concerts will be given in Riverside park Thursday evening.
It was announced today by Reuben
G. Knutson, chairman of the city council's park committee.

The Norden band will play and the concert will begin at 7:45.

Whether this will be the last of the season's concerts, or whether others will follow, has not decided, Mr. Knutson said.

HARDING SOLICITS WOMEN'S SUPPORT OF G. O. P. TICKET

In Message to Women of America Candidate Tells Why They Should Join Republicans

SAYS DEMOCRATS HINDERED RATIFICATION OF SUFFRAGE

Warns Women Not to Become Confused on League Issues

MARION, O., Sept. 15.—In a message addressed to the republican women's organizations of America and the Women's Harding and Coolidge clubs, Senator Harding today stated his views on women in politics and why they should align themselves
with the republican party. "Our country," he said, "will be well served by the participation in politics of all our citizenship, now justly the constitutional grant to women."

In his message he referred to the league of nations, declaring that "women are too wise and too fine in moral sense, to listen to technical discussion tending to prove that having made a moral promise by an indefensible international agreement, we could induce congress to withhold the action needed to perform our moral obligations. We must measure our obligations in determination to live up to them."

The message said in part:
"I believe before we emphasize the need of any new voters to join a particular political party, we must emphasize the need for their joining some party, and giving to the party of their choice their service, conscience,
wisdom, and loyalty."

"Our two party system has brought progress and prosperity to America,
and the party not in power has always proved capable of gaining influence to check recklessness or wil-fulness of the party having control."

"We must point especially to women voters that our own party offers them the best hope of measures of social justice, aimed at preservation of our human resource, and of the American home."

"We republicans are committed to a policy of solving housing problems and encouraging home owning. The platform of our opponents fails to consider this subject. We have declared specifically for a long list of social justice and social welfare measures, unmentioned by the democratic platform. We stand now, as the republican party stood before the granting of suffrage, for participation of all our citizenship in the formations of the peoples' free will. It is needless to point out that democratic votes in our congress and democratic governors and democratic legislatures of democratic states, have been the forces of obstruction which have prevented earlier action on universal grant of suffrage."

"We have no desire to claim that the democratic nor even the one-man domination of it which now seeks to perpetuate its war power government, stands for war. But we do claim that the bungling at Paris and the unfortunate fiasco created in negotiations looking toward an association of nations, is squarely upon the shoulders of our opponents."

"American women will realize with us that the work of building an association of nations which will prevent war, must be undertaken again
by those who are most capable of creating a workable plan and committed to that policy. American women must realize that the league of nations as presented by a democratic administration, would not mean
peace for us, but would mean American boys living in army tents overseas and asked to die in causes in which they would have no heart."

MAYOR REQUESTS CITY OPINION ON ASSESSMENT BOOK

Wants Public Attitude Summary
for Presentation to State
Municipal Convention

What do you, as a taxpayer, think of the La Crosse plan of publishing
the assessment roll?

The new plan fathered by Mayor Bentley, which had its first trial in the city this year, will be one of the principal topics of discussion at the convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities to be held here next month. An effort to get a thorough resume of public sentiment on the scheme is being made by the mayor, who is booked for an explanation and discussion of the plan.

Mayor Bentley today requested that all citizens who have formed an opinion on the matter communicate it to him, so that the attitude of the public
pro and con can be fairly summarized for the city officials meeting at the convention.

That the matter is considered one of some importance is indicated by a letter sent out by the municipal research bureau of the University of Wisconsin, to the chairman of the council finance committee of all cities in the state. The letter says:
"No chairman of a finance committee, who does not already know about the La Crosse Assessment Book can afford to miss the discussion of it at this year's meeting. No step has been taken by any city in the state that will go so far to equalize and secure an accurate and fair assessment of property as the La Crosse scheme of publishing assessments. You certainly cannot afford to miss it."

KIWANIS CLUB CLASS TWO-DAY CONVENTION

OSHKOSH, Wis., Sept. 15.—The first Kiwanis inter-city gathering in the state of Wisconsin, which opened yesterday and closed at noon today,
proved a marked success in spite of a rain storm this morning. The main events of the convention were a picnic yesterday at Menominee park and a banquet last evening at the municipal club-house. There were 293 at the banquet and a number of toasts were given, including talks by E. A.
Mathews of Milwaukee, district governor of Kiwanis, and John Moss of Milwaukee. Rev. W. J. Patton of this city was toastmaster at the banquet.

VIENNA MADE SEPARATE AUSTRIAN PROVINCE

VIENNA, Sept. 15.—Consent was granted by the constitutional committee today for Vienna to become a separate Austrian province. This reversed a former decision. The boundaries of the new province will be decided upon by the upper Austrian diet
and the city council.

ROOT PLAN FOR WORLD TRIBUNAL MADE PUBLIC BY LEAGUE COUNCIL

600 HUNTERS PREPARED FOR OPENING BARRAGE OF THE DUCK SEASON THURSDAY A. M.

THERE will be some bombardment in the marshes around La Crosse tomorrow morning early, if all the hunters who have taken out licenses are out for the first round at the fall flight of ducks.

At noon today County Clerk Jolyette had issued 598 Wisconsin licenses, and fifty Minnesota licenses. The latter come high—$15 as compared to $1 for a resident Wisconsin license—but local hunters report that the Minnesota marshes are pretty well stocked with mallard and teal, and they have made preparations to go after them.

Yesterday alone 126 licenses were issued at the court house.
Reports are that, although the flight of ducks from the north has not yet begun, owing to the continued warm weather, there are more than the usual number of local flocks breeding in the marshes and sloughs around La Crosse. Hunters, who have been out looking the ground over expect some success on the opening day. Wood duck, which have been protected by law for several years, are said to be numerous.

Game wardens and several sportsmen who act as volunteer wardens are prepared to be on the marshes early to catch violators of the prohibition against shooting before sunrise, and to watch that bag limits and other rules are not broken.

CONNECTICUT VOTE ON SUFFRAGE VOID CLAIMS GOVERNOR

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 15.—
Governor Marcus H. Holcomb,
doubting the legality of the ratification of the nineteenth amendment by the legislature yesterday, has withheld certification of the action.

Miss Catharine M. Flanagan,
for the suffrage association, last night secured a certified copy of the resolution of ratification and left for Washington to file it with Secretary of State, Coby.

The legislature has been called into special session next Tuesday to receive from Governor Holcomb the receipt of the nineteenth amendment and proclamation which Secretary Coby sent him, on which he expects the legislature to act. The governor has said that the action of the legislature yesterday did not concern him. He added that he has outlined how ratification
can be rightly accomplished by Connecticut and that he would not certify action until it was done in a legal way.

RED ARROW MEN OF LA CROSSE GOING TO DIVISION FETE

Three Local Companies of Famous Terribles to be Represented in Milwaukee

MEMORIAL MEETING TO BE LED BY GENERAL HAAN

Plan Monuments to be Erected on European Battlefields

A NUMBER of La Crosse veterans are planning to attend the first annual reunion of the Thirty-second Division Veterans' association which will be held at Milwaukee September 19, 20 and 21.

La Crosse units serving with the Red Arrow division were Company B,
128th infantry; Company C, 121st Machine Gun battalion, and the Sanitary Detachment of the 128th infantry,
and it is expected that a good delegation of veterans from these units will attend the reunion.

Expect Big Crowd
Arrangements for the association
meeting have been completed and it is expected that a large percentage of the men who served with the famous division in France will be present at the reunion of the veterans. Among the various events appearing on the program, the Red Arrow Memorial meeting, at which Major General William G. Haan will preside, promises to be of interest to the former members of the division. Meetings for the purpose of the discussion of the candidates for officers and members of the executive committee of the division association, together with the Memorial committee for the consideration of plans for the erection of divisional monuments on European battlefields, will be held.

The program is as follows:
Saturday, Afternoon, Sept. 18.
Annual meeting of executive committee.
Arrival of Red Arrow veterans and
guests.
Registration at headquarters (Milwaukee Auditorium, 6th and Market) for section of organization
headquarters.

Sunday Morning, Sept. 19
Registration continued.
Assignment to quarters.
Information bureau at Reunion headquarters.

Sunday, 1 P. M.
Automobile tours.
Band concerts at city parks.

Sunday, 8 P. M.
Red Arrow memorial meeting at Auditorium with Major General William G. Haan, presiding.

Decorative exercises for Red Arrow dead.

Monday, 9 A. M., Sept. 20
Regimental and unit meetings.
Discussion of candidates for officers,
and members of executive committee of division association.

Meeting of memorial committee to consider plans for erection of monuments on European battlefields.

Monday, 1:30 P. M.
Parade and patriotic meeting of all units.

Decorations of artillery regimental colors with Croix de guerre.
Official reception of distinguished
guests.

Regimental and small unit banquets
and reunions.

Monday, 8 P. M.
Grand ball, Auditorium.

Tuesday, 9 A. M., Sept. 21
Annual business meeting of the Thirty-second Division Veterans' association. Election of officers. Reports of committees and action thereon. Election of honorary members. Battlefield monuments to be decided upon.

ADOPTION OF PLAN URGED BY COUNCIL

Failure of Scheme Would be International Misfortune of the Gravest Kind Says
League Statement

COURT ESTABLISHED UNDER PROVISIONS OF LEAGUE PACT

International Problems to be Submitted to Tribunal
for Settlement

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The headquarters of the league of nations today
made public the text of the project
for a permanent court of international justice, as adopted by The Hague
committee of jurists, of which Elihu Root was a member, together with a letter from the council of the league
to all governments which have entered the league of nations.

The council of the league in its letter to the governments says:
"The council does not propose to express any opinion on the merits of the scheme until they have had a full opportunity of considering it."

Council Urges Adoption
It states that the project was prepared by a most competent tribunal representing widely different national points of view, and adds:

"The council would regard irreconcilable difference of opinion on the merits of the scheme as an international misfortune of the gravest kind."
"It would mean that the league was publicly compelled to admit its incapacity to carry out one of the most important of the tasks which it was invited to perform."

"The failure would be great and probably irreparable, for if agreement
proves impossible under circumstances apparently so favorable, it is hard to see how and when the task of securing it will be successfully resumed."

The council states it will later submit its recommendations to the assembly of the league of nations.

Purpose of Court
The entire project, consisting of sixty-two articles, is divided into three chapters of court and procedure.
A preamble states the general purposes of the court as follows:

"A permanent court of international justice, to which parties shall have direct access, is hereby established in accordance with article 14 of the covenant of the league of nations."

"This court shall be in addition to the court of arbitration organized by The Hague convention of 1899 and 1907 and to the special tribunals of arbitration to which states are always at liberty to submit their disputes for settlement."

Articles 2 and 3 give the membership of the court as follows:

The permanent court of international justice shall be composed of a body of independent judges, elected regardless of their nationality from among persons of high moral character, who possess the qualifications required, in their respective countries,
for appointment to the highest judicial offices or are jurisconsults of recognized competence in international law.

"The court shall consist of fifteen members, eleven judges and four deputy judges. The number of judges, and deputy judges may be hereafter increased by the assembly upon the proposal of the council of the league of nations, to a total of fifteen judges
and six deputy judges."

The manner of choosing the judges
by the different national groups is provided. The members of the court are elected for nine years. The president and vice president of the court
serve for three years.

To Sit at Hague
The seat of the court is established at The Hague, which shall be the court's open by right to states belonging to the league. Other states may have access to it under conditions provided by the league.

When a dispute
has arisen between states, and it has been found impossible to settle
it by diplomatic means, and no agreement has been made to choose another jurisdiction, the parties complaining
may bring the case before the court,
and determine the dispute according to the terms and within the limits of the next article.

Scope of Court
The questions which the court is competent to determine, between members of the league, are:

Fall Fashions - Express Individuality

by Dorothy Durant

Indian Traditions Which Oppose Progress

An Indian child is under the domination of his father even after he legally has reached his majority, and in the case of the girls, the fathers retain the right to sell them if they so wish. It is such habits and traits as these that have held the Indians back.

The dragon fly lives on other insects which it captures on the wing.

Woman's nature is perverse—but if she only knew that in expressing her own individuality or in dressing her own type as it were that she would find greater success in choosing her clothes. Then, too, one would not hear the same harried lament of the many undecided at the beginning of the season.

It is quite unnecessary to say that to be really well dressed one must be absolutely free from the dominating crowd-mind. To feel that one's apparel is exclusively and correctly separated from that worn by the ordinary crowd is most satisfying.

A smart looking woman, distinguished and well groomed, knows that the success of her costume lies in the fact that it is her's, individually, as harmoniously a part of her as her collier. Since there is no set mode to adhere to, how wonderfully staple for every woman today to consult her own type in dress. How really delightful to be able to follow one's own individual taste instead of being a slave to fashion's whims as were our grandmothers.

The silhouette has changed little since spring only lengthening out a bit to suit the natural line of the figure. In daytime frocks skirt lengths are still varying but avoiding the rather grotesque, extremely short skirting models, which have been so prevalent during the past season. No extremely tight skirts are worn and though there is a decided tendency to fullness in the skirts, it is quite without exaggeration. The extremely short sleeve has become passé, but the three-quarter and elbow length are featured. Though there is little change in the neck line of most frocks, the high neck with full or extended platings is gaining favor among many of the very fastidious.

Duvelyn seems symbolic of fall, and the duvelyn shades, soft golden brown, misty grays and the warm reds and beiges express the very atmosphere. Frocks of this material are charming in their simplicity of line. Some of these are embroidered and many are combined with satin.

When one is slim and youthful, and the season is fall, there could be no lovelier frock in which to pass the afternoon than a taking model of gray duvelyn. The bodice is charmingly simple, with a slightly rounded neckline and long, straight sleeves loose at the wrists. A bright bit of jade cord forms the girdle, tied about the waistline, and queer jade embroidery is added in patches under this and is also used to edge the neckline. On the sides of the skirt the material is slashed and stands out like a poplin. On the sides below this are added five tiers with rounded edges. The front and back of the skirts are decidedly plain.

Delightfully quaint and altogether charming is an afternoon gown of black satin. The bodice is fastened down the front with little buttons and could almost be suspected of being a basque. The collar is high and swathed, and the sleeves long. The very full skirt is attached to the bodice at a low waistline and dips down on either side with a deep puffing between two cords, while all about the top of the skirt is a deep upstanding satin frill.

Velvet with satin for the afternoon gown, are soft and clinging, obnoxious and gorgeous and velvets, rich and lustrous in shade.

Only a fur is needed with the tailored wool frock for early fall, which takes its style from the suit. With these, colored vestees are shown, which can always be renewed. Colored embroidery is another interesting feature of these frocks, henna and jade being combined on one model on the long rever collar and cuffs. Tricotine is the more favored fabric for this type of frock, but some models are in serge.

In preparing for the festive winter season, one does not forget that evening gowns are most gorgeous and of a very formal type, often being composed of metallic fabrics such as satin brocade with metal threads or embossed velvet. Designs are interwoven, rather than spotted over the surface, and very bright colors are introduced, such as gold, flamingo, copper, and in fact all the Oriental shades. However, soft materials like chiffon or tulle are more appropriate for the ingenue and are shown in many instances with skirts made in the petal idea.

After choosing one's gown for evening, there is the evening wrap to consider. One that is unusually contrasting is in sapphire blue chiffon velvet with front facings of silver cloth, and oriental sleeves, edged with fluting of silver and coral colored ribbon. Another charming wrap of chiffon velvet is in deep purple with natural moufflon collar, which continues in double tuck from across the center-back forming a sort of yoke under which the cape is shirred.

The general silhouette of the coats this season, which we have borrowed from the Parisienne, and are really loose, wrappy affairs straight in line and generally without belt. Only a few models introduce the fitted waist line at the sides. One of these obtain this effect by having a front sash cut in one with the back bodice section. Besides duvelyn and soft velours there are wraps of camel hair finish that are unusually attractive.

The manner in which fur is arranged on some of the fall models rather interests one, for while both warmth and trimming are supplied, it is conserved in many instances by not being used solidly. One, much to be desired, is trimmed with two bands of moleskin, which fence the generous self collar of a black cashmere duvelyn wrap. Cuffs of fur which are wider and bell shaped at the top serve to hold the fullness of the sleeves. And what feminine young person would not delight in a luxurious wrap in chefoo color, with draped elbow sleeves and wide fur bands which serve to enhance the deep Quaker collar shirred to stand erect at the neck?

There is a suit for every occasion this fall. The design and cloth of her suit depends on whether military will wear it for walking, for sport wear, or whether she will wear it for luncheon, or at matinee. For walking there is always the rather tailored, trikotine, serge or pinstriped, which is so becoming to the majority of figures. The semi-English lines are suitable for sports wear, with unbelted, unbroken waists composed of gored forming fitted waistlines or the boyish belted type with patch pockets. Scotch chevrons and imported mixtures are often used for suits of this kind. The suit for the formal occasion is made of duvelyn, velours, marvella or peachbloom material, which serve for garments of softer line and are usually trimmed with fur.

The applique motif idea is carried out on a fascinating cloud gray marvella cloth suit trimmed with wide bands of moleskin. Applique is used in an interesting fashion at the center front and back, disguising the placement of the waistline.

What woman is there who does not crave the unusual in suits? And to satisfy this craving there is the three-piece costume in which the blouse plays an important part.

Chinchilla satin and silk faille are the materials usually used for the third part of such costumes. Brocades of all kinds are rather passé, but the tinsel and Japanese embroideries are arranged in the front to show alluring bits of waist coats and at other parts to trim the blouse.

Then, too, collars and bands of fur are placed on some of the blouses. "Filling in," as it were the close but collarless neckline of the coat. A model carrying out these unusual details is shown in navy blue velours, with squirrel trimming its chinchilla satin blouse.

"Would you mind telling me what the upkeep of your limousine amounts to?"

"Certainly not," replied the prosperous citizen. "But may I ask why you want to know?"

"My wife's been after me to buy a flivver and I'm going to argue against it on a limousine basis."

"BOB" AND TOWNLEY

THE Nonpartisan league is two things. It is an association of farmers who have grievances, and politico-economic programs which they seek to arrive at according to what they think the needs of the states they have entered. In another sense, it is Townley.

We make the latter point because it will be one of interest in Wisconsin sooner or later.

Four years ago the Nonpartisan league of North Dakota endorsed La Follette for the presidency. This year the Wisconsin branch of the league endorsed the La Follette candidates in this state. They did this even before La Follette met himself on his farm and made up his "slate". In the various counties of Wisconsin the league suggested the republican candidates, and then endorsed them.

As an entering wedge La Follette could permit this, but not as a steady thing. He'll not long be the tail of any dog, even of a faithful one. Townley, also, brooks no other gods before him.

They'll fight this thing out at no distant date. No doubt Townley has plans for swallowing the La Follette wing of the republican party, with Berger for desert. Probably La Follette plans to do the swallowing himself, whether for a new party or an old faction. Certainly he'll never rest easy in the whale's belly.

Many people who see good intent in part or all of the league program, and actual good in portions of its administration, complain that its fault is that its leadership is bad. Our information is not sufficient to warrant definite conclusions on the whole, but that canvassers for the league in Wisconsin have not all been always frank in soliciting members can be substantiated. Some of these men work upon the theory of the possibilist; that first find what a man wants and what his kick is, and then ascribe similar ideas and purposes to the league. For instance a La Crosse county member missed his beer, and was promptly told that one of the purposes of the league was to fight for the return of lager. In Wisconsin this was good, but back in North Dakota, where the league lives and has its being, the majority of farmers are bone dry. There the league would not dare get mixed up in the wet and dry fight. When it was found that a man was "sore" about the war, the solicitor assured him the league was even sorer. This appeal to the Germanic counties has netted great returns in membership, and since it is a sharp deviation from the real purposes of the league it will have to be offset by sounder doctrine if the organization is to find a safe foundation. Such tricks of solicitation will have to be stopped. It is said the present leaders encourage them; at least they have not successfully discouraged them. If La Follette ties up with this outfit permanently it is probable that he will want to do some pretty general housecleaning. Indeed, it is rumored that his displeasure with certain practices has already asserted itself.

Townley has achieved considerable success as a leader; but he never has encountered any real competition. When in the course of human events he sticks out his chest at "Fighting Bob" there will be a regular he-man scrap, and somehow we have a healthy hunch to lay a modest hazard on the sometimes heroic Bobcat from Wisconsin.

THE FOOL'S CLASSIC

FOR over 100 years men have been saying: "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." They mean that it is better to keep that which one has than to take a chance at securing twice as much, which is uncertain. It must have been a wise saying. For it has lived so long.

But a fool, a court jester, is credited with originating that sentence classic. But court fools were wise men. They had to be. Lacking wisdom they might have, if the boss proved in a temper, lost their heads to say nothing of their jobs.

Will Somers was one of these fellows. He was court jester to Henry VIII. Somers once called on Lord Surrey. Surrey gave Will a dandy kingfisher, same sort of a bird that flies up the creek with a racket like a rattle. But kingfishers were rare. And Lord Hamton, running over to Lord Surrey's house after Will had gone with the bird, was disappointed because he wanted the kingfisher, too.

"Somers will give it up," Lord Surrey told Hamton, "if I promise him another some other day." And Lord Surrey sent a messenger to Will the joker, prince of wits.

"Sirrah," said Will Somers, the jokist, back there in the fifteenth century, "tell your master that I am much obliged for his liberal offer of two for one, but that I prefer one bird in hand to two in bush."

And Will's little remark has lived through centuries and has been applied to hundreds of thousands of similar situations. As the actor would say: "It's a mighty good line."

FEARS UNREALIZED

IT'S difficult to guess how dice will fall. It's almost as hard to forecast what will be the effect of any legislation. Each law is an experiment. It seldom has the exact effect anticipated. Rarely are the hopes of its supporters or fears of its opponents fully realized.

Prohibition's opponents thought that much property which had been occupied by saloons would be left vacant. But circumstances which had not been taken into account prevented that.

Grape owners whose product had been used for wine feared great loss. These fears have proved unfounded.

The United States Bureau of Markets reports that the manufacture of unfermented grape juice, jams and jellies is utilizing an increasing tonnage of grapes, and indicates that soon the annual production of grapes will not fill the demand.

Taxicab companies feared a loss of business as a result of prohibition. But an increase is reported by companies represented at the recent convention of the National Taxicab Owners' association.

The difficulty of forecasting the effect of any action accurately is one reason why the progress of civilization falters, and is slow at its best.

GETTING HOME AGAIN

MOST people, who intended taking any, have had their vacations.

Now comes the joy of getting home again.

Now school starts, summer sales are over, field and orchard are heavy with harvest, business shakes off its hot-weather lethargy and we enter upon that period of weather-mellowness, which has no superior in all the swing of the sun around the zodiac.

Vacation is good. A play-spell is a delight. A change of scene and of activity is good for us. But, after all, the chief delight is in getting home again.

As one approaches the home territory and home town, he gets a thrill of delight from every remembered rock or stream, every rail fence, every advertising sign upon the country barns.

When he reaches his own threshold, there is something inspiring and comforting about everything from the front door-mat to the moth-eaten hair trunk in the attic.

After he has reclaimed the cat from the neighbors and re-established relations with the milkman and the grocer, the world seems a happy place.

Oh, the joy of sleeping in your own bed, of getting your own home cooking, of feeling that here is a place dedicated to the innocent bliss of doing as you darn please!

BADGER CHEESE MEN CALLED TO EXPLAIN ALLEGED UNFAIRNESS

Five Summoned Before State Division of Markets at Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 15.—Five Wisconsin "cheese kings" have been summoned to appear before the state division of markets at Milwaukee tomorrow to testify as to alleged unfair practices of cheese buyers in failing to pay for fractional weights of cheese.

The men summoned are: J. H. Wheeler, president, Independent Cheese Dealers' association, Plymouth; C. D. Budgett, president, Budgett Cheese company, Marshfield; Felix Baily, president, Baily & Pauly Cheese company, Manitowish; C. A. Straubel, president, C. A. Straubel Cheese company, Green Bay; Fred Dew, president, Dow Cheese company, Plymouth.

State officials may make a general inquiry into the methods used in marketing cheese, though the specific complaint, made by hundreds of small co-operative factories, merely alleges that dealers pay only for even pounds and take fractional pounds without payment. The loss is estimated at several million pounds annually.

It looks as if we were to have the French shoe and its variations with heel, for afternoon wear in patent or for a long visit, for the stubby out steel buckle to dress it up a bit. Toed little foreigner has a host of Then the wondrously long slim satin fast friends, and has only wanted a or kid models for evening wear is little in popularity after a very successful spring season. Yet lady's slender, aristocratic, long last is still a pace or two ahead.

For the average American woman, who strives to attain the height of good taste in dress, whose idea is to be smart, and yet conservative, the long vamped model, with perhaps a slightly rounded toe for walking and sportswear is the thing. This type of American woman in her most serious moments is endowed with many sensible ideas, and displays them in her dress. But she has her frivolous moments as well, and it is then that she flaunts her femininity.

For sports and daytime wear the oxford plays its unusual leading part. These are found in fall models, in calfskin, cordovan or Russian calf, and are shown with either the plain or wing tip. Unusually interesting is a special golfing oxford of exceptionally pliable tan Russian calf-skin, with strap trimmings and low heel.

Another very sensible shoe is the one having the Louis XV, or opera heel. This attractive heel is to be found in various models. For walking it is found in calfskin with a leather heel, for afternoon wear in patent or steel buckle to dress it up a bit. Then the wondrously long slim satin or kid models for evening wear is very satisfying.

A very important decision for our "lady of fashion" to make again this fall is whether she will wear a high top shoe, or add a spat to her oxford, or pump for warmth during the winter. For it is not everyone who had a closed winter car to hop in and out of with unprotected ankles. This is a decision which is rarely made, or rather settled, for one almost always has at least high topped walking boots for rough weather. If not in dress shoes, in kid or satin. However, the spat is still the thing and will continue in favor this season as ever before.

Many of the slippers for evening are wonderfully elaborate and quite gorgeous, while others are charming in their simplicity. Exquisite for the dark colored evening gown are black satin slippers, with vamps heavily beaded, with jet and a fan tongue also heavily beaded. Evening slippers in kid often have tiny straps across the instep, woven in a most intricate fashion. These, sometimes, are covered up over the ankle and are extremely feminine.

SOUTH AFRICA KEEPS GERMAN PROPERTY AS THIRTY YEAR LOAN

Four Per Cent Interest to be Paid to Owners of Property Taken Over

CAPETOWN.—Property of Germans to the value of 9,000,000 pounds is to be retained by the South African government as a loan repayable in thirty years. This intention of the government was announced today in the South African house of assembly by the premier, General Smuts.

He explained that enemy assets held by the custodian of enemy property in South Africa totalled 21,000,000 pounds of which 3,000,000 pounds had already been paid out to Germans domiciled in South Africa. Of the remaining 18,000,000 pounds one million pounds would be temporarily applied in satisfaction of South African claims on Germans for debts or for property in Germany sequestered by that government.

On the balance of 9,000,000 pounds the government of South Africa has decided to pay interest at four per cent, raising the total to 10,000,000 pounds, which will then be held by South Africa as a loan from the German owners for a term of thirty years, the government paying owners four per cent interest.

Premier Smuts added that the government did not propose to pay this money to the Reparation commission, which would practically mean confiscation. As there was no guarantee that if the money was sent to Germany it would ever reach the proper owners, he said, it had been decided to take it over as stated, namely, as a loan.

NEW ALLOY OF MAGNESIUM

For the manufacture of pistons and other parts of automobile and aircraft engines, and other commercial uses, there has been recently made a new alloy of magnesium which contains more than ninety per cent, of metallic magnesium. This is the lightest metal which, at the same time, has the tensile strength and the physical properties making it suitable for engineering uses.

Prior to the war, magnesium was imported from Germany and its main use, if not sole use in the United States was as a deoxidizing agent for non-ferrous metals. This metal is one-fourth the weight of cast-iron and all aluminum and aluminum alloys are 50 per cent heavier, or it could be said, magnesium is one-third lighter than aluminum.

When the foreign supplies were cut off early in the war, the manufacture of metallic magnesium was undertaken by a Michigan chemical company, there being unlimited amount of the raw material in the brine pumped from its numerous wells, from which many other chemical products were manufactured. Among these manufactured products is the salt, magnesium chloride, which after suitable preparation is used for the manufacture of metallic magnesium. The process employed is electrolytic in which a heavy direct electric current is passed through a molten salt bath, maintained at a red heat until it is decomposed by the current and the metallic magnesium is formed which, on account of its extreme lightness, rises to the top, floats on the surface of the molten bath and is skimmed off from time to time.

ARTILLERY TRAIN BOMBARDS MOVING TARGETS AT SEA

Demonstrates Practicability of Repelling Attacks from Warships With Railroad Artillery

ROCKPORT, Mass.—The bombardment of moving targets at sea from an artillery train on the Rockport branch of the Boston and Maine railroad furnished the summer colony of the Massachusetts North Shore with a novel spectacle and plenty of noise during the first days of this month.

Military experts were especially interested in the demonstration, as it was designed to show the feasibility of repelling an attack of war vessels by means of railroad artillery. At a distance of thirteen miles from shore targets towed by a tug were a mark for the heavy guns of the Forty-second United States coast artillery. The line towing the target was a mile or more in length and the batteries consisted of eight-inch guns, four to a battery mounted on specially constructed railroad cars. The guns, which weigh eighty-seven tons each, carried projectiles weighing 200 pounds.

The entire artillery trains consisted of thirty-four cars. It was moved from Camp Devens in two sections and included cars for tools and ammunition, a machine shop, a hospital, fire control, a kitchen, an office, mess, wireless and cars for the personnel.

The Forty-second regiment, which is part of the Thirtieth Artillery brigade (railroad) has had a long and honorable record, dating back to revolutionary times and the Florida and Mexican wars.

Record-Breaking Wireless Plants

The Lafayette wireless station near Bordeaux, which was built by the American army during the war and which has been recently acquired by France, is at present the most powerful plant of the kind in the world, having a capacity to send and receive half way round the world, but there is to be started on Long Island a plant with a number of new features of which wonders are expected. It will be possible to send and receive several messages at one time and it is anticipated that it will be possible to carry on wireless telephone conversation for very long distances.

FAR EAST AFFORDS GOOD MARKET FOR U. S. SAYS LAMONT

Will Become Great Outlet for American Enterprise if Developed, He Says

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The Far East bids fair to become the greatest foreign outlet for American manufacture and enterprise, if properly developed, declared Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Company today, following his return from the Orient, where he participated in formation of the new consortium to place China on a firmer economic foundation. His address was delivered before the American Manufacturers' association.

European nations have learned, he said, "that the policy of the warship and grab is outworn, and they can best serve their interests and those of China, by stopping the race for concessions and by adopting plans of co-operation."

Financial assistance is to be given China by the new consortium composed of strong banking groups in Great Britain, France, Japan and the United States.

A great system of railroads must be built over there," he said, pointing out China would require considerable American steel, bridges, equipment, farming implements, cotton mill and mining machinery, and machine-making tools.

"To keep 400,000,000 people supplied with moving picture shows," he added, "will be quite a task even for Americans."

"Siberia is in need of American machinery and methods," he continued, "as men who would develop its rich agricultural, timber and mining resources."

Japan is commercially handicapped, Mr. Lamont said, by the policy of the so-called military party, whose philosophy of force clashes with the liberal ideas of Japan's manufacturers, great merchants and bankers.

"At the present time this policy, which has resulted in tremendous taxation to maintain the army and navy, will prevent American co-operation on a large scale in developing Japan's industries."

WATKINS TO APPEAR IN CAMPAIGN SPEECH AT RIVERSIDE PARK

After giving campaign speeches at Galesville, Holmen, Rancore and West Salem today, Aaron S. Watkins, candidate for president on the prohibition ticket, will conclude today's program at Riverside park at 8:15 tonight. Mr. Watkins' speech here will mark the initial appearance of a presidential candidate in the city this year.

"Why, she didn't say nothing," replied the small brother. "She just took a ring off one finger and put it on another."

State-made Athletes

At the ancient Greek religious festivals a feature was made of public games, for which the athletes were carefully prepared at the expense of the State. Swimming, wrestling, leaping and running were the chief exercises. In later centuries the attention paid to athletic exercises decreased, but in recent years there has been a revival in every country.

RAILS LEAD MARKET

Gains of One to Three Points Registered in Day's Trading

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The railroad market today was the strongest since the opening of the market. Gains of one to three points were registered in the leading issues. The market was buoyed up by the news that the Federal Reserve bank had increased its discount rate to 6 percent, and by the fact that the government had announced that it would purchase $100,000,000 of railroad bonds.

The market was also buoyed up by the news that the Federal Reserve bank had increased its discount rate to 6 percent, and by the fact that the government had announced that it would purchase $100,000,000 of railroad bonds.

COUSIN OF IRISH HUNGER-STRIKER TO SPEAK HERE TODAY

Peter Golden Declares McSwiney
Will Die Rather than Surrender to Injustice

Peter Golden, who will speak at the meeting of the Friends of Irish Freedom this evening in Yeoman hall, is a second cousin of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork who is hunger-striking in a British jail in protest against his conviction by a court martial.

"I have had no word except what is in the papers every day," said Mr. Golden. "But I know that my cousin will hold out to the end. He will die rather than surrender to injustice, and his martyrdom will be of service to his country's cause."

Mr. Golden said that MacSwiney is about 35 years old, and recently married, with one little daughter. He became lord mayor of Cork following the death of Lord Mayor McCurtain, who was killed by raiders who attacked his home several months ago.

Mr. Golden said he would not make any appeal for funds at the Yeoman hall meeting, but would simply explain the purpose and conditions of the Irish republic loan for which subscriptions are asked.

LA FOLLETTE SEAMEN'S ACT SHORTENS LAKE SEASON

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Many of the large passenger vessels on the Great Lakes ended their season today due to the provisions of the La Follette seamen's act. The law provides that after September 15 lifeboat space must be provided for every passenger and crew member of a lake vessel thus cutting down the passenger capacity.

Mayor Still Conscious and His Mind Active on Thirty-fourth
Day of Hunger Strike

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Little change in the condition of Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork was reported this morning by the physician of Brixton prison, where MacSwiney is incarcerated. In his report to the home office, however, the physician declared "increased weakness" was noticeable.

The bulletin issued by the Irish self-determination league read: "This is the thirty-fourth day of the strike. The lord mayor passed a somewhat better night and had a few hours' sleep. The pains in the body and limbs continue. He is still conscious and his mind is active."

Proposed Law to be Presented to Italian Parliament by Socialist Committee

MILAN, Sept. 15.—Plans for a law providing for the collaboration of workmen in management of industrial plants, which will be presented at the next session of parliament, have been placed in the hands of a commission appointed by socialist members of the house of deputies. Leaders of the workmen insist the agreement with employers must admit the men to management of technical departments, finances and offices for the placement and dismissal of men. Leaders declare occupation of plants will continue until employers' privileges are suppressed and the new rights of labor acknowledged. While a majority of employers eagerly resist the workmen's scheme for assisting in the management, there is an important section which supports a suggestion that the men's scheme be accepted on general lines.

CROP REPORT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 15.—Synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Wisconsin for the week ending Tuesday, September 14: The weather of the week was generally favorable for agriculture. Good showers and somewhat warmer weather were beneficial to corn, late potatoes, sugar beets, pastures and meadows, and to early seedlings of winter grains. More rain is needed, however, in most sections. Threshing is completed in many counties. The roads continue good. The harvesting of early tobacco and of clover and the filling of silos is proceeding rapidly under favorable conditions.

SHIP BODIES OF YANKS
CHERBOURG, France, Sept. 15.—Preparations for shipping to the United States bodies of American soldiers who fell on the battlefield or died on French soil are going forward here. Hundreds of carpenters are building which will be placed upon coffins. Coffins, while scores of seamstresses when they are sent back to the United States, are making the funeral ornaments.

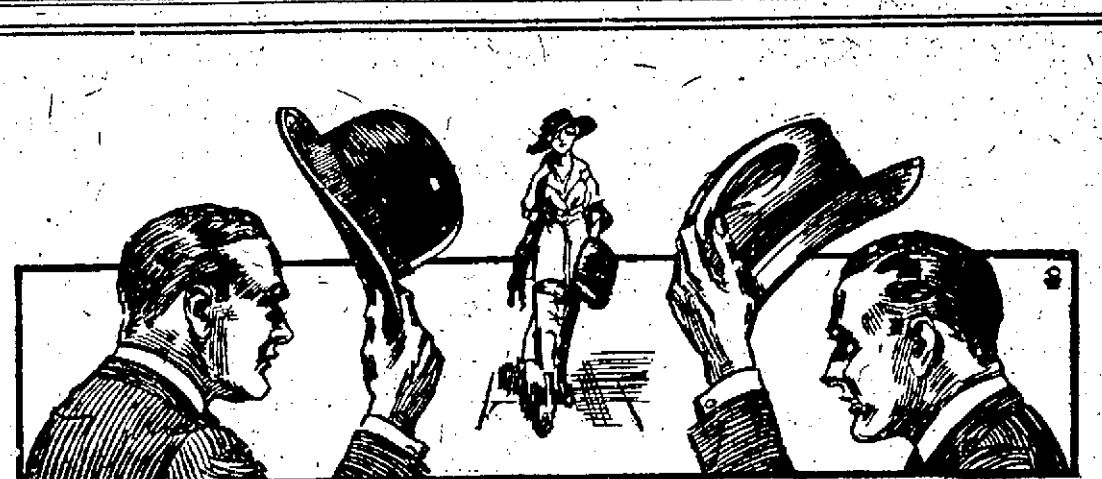

"An Ounce of Prevention"—

You all know how this great truism ends. And it's as sound logic as was ever uttered. Why wait to fill your medicine chest when you're sick and miserable? Do it at once before the inclement Fall weather sets in.

A little of this or that in the Drug line may prevent a whole season of sickness. Look into your medicine chest at once. You may need any number of sickness preventives.

Training Will Put Young Men in Position to Command if Emergency Arises

COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 15.—An appeal to college students of the nation to enter into advanced military training and study through the reserve officers' training corps at the various colleges and universities, was voiced by Secretary of War Baker in an address here today. He declared that as the list of reserve officers increases annually, one of the great military problems of the United States would be solved.

"We are not seeking to encourage a military spirit," said the secretary, "but to give a great body of young men a basis upon which we can build capacity for command and leadership, should a national emergency require their service."

Secretary Baker declared the greatest problem before the war department during the world war was to obtain adequately trained men to fill the commissioned ranks in the lower grades, and that the reserve officers plan was designed to meet a similar situation in case of a future emergency.

The R. O. T. C. movement has grown steadily during the past three years, the speaker said. At the close of the 1920 academic year, there were 208 senior units having an enrollment of 43,508 students and 126 junior units with 44,777 students.

More than 500 army officers were engaged in training these students.

The secretary said that 5,000 probably would be the maximum number of reserve officials which the R. O. T. C. could be expected to provide annually.

PLAN FIGHT FOR DRY ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Enforcement of the prohibition amendment, plans for the fight before the next congress to prevent modification of the enforcement act and world prohibition were the principal topics before the conference of Anti-saloon league leaders which began here today to continue through Friday. The conference was preliminary to the international congress against alcoholism which begins here Monday.

Enforcement of the liquor amendment was discussed today by Wayne D. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-saloon league and others. Mr. Wheeler declared that national prohibition would never be repealed, but might be nullified.

SLOVAKIAN OFFICIAL
PREDICTS EARLY WAR
IN CENTRAL EUROPE

Storm Clouds Hovering Near Declares Former President of Slovak Republic

POLESSEES BREAKING UP OF THE GERMAN EMPIRE

Also Predicts War Between Poles and Czechs

UPPEREST—Central Europe and Germany will surely be war and storm centers soon, in the opinion of Victor Dvorak, who was president of the Slovak republic for a period of a few weeks prior to the annexation of Slovakia by the Czechs in November 1918. Dvorak, in the United States invited him to visit them this summer.

"I have just completed a tour of Europe," said Mr. Dvorak, "and the storm clouds are in the air. Germany will break up into the small states of a hundred years ago. The 3,000,000 Germans now held by the Czechs will join the Saxons, while the Austrians will join the Bavarians, perhaps."

There will be a war between the Poles and the Czechs, as the latter have an understanding with the Moscovite government. In this war Hungary will help the Poles, in order to get the willow, once her province, back. The Rumanians have difficulties with the Russian bolsheviks over the old province of Bessarabia, this will be a signal for the Hungarians to go back Transylvania. The Hungarians know well that the Allies can't help the Czechs in a military war, and perhaps wouldn't if they could.

The point that troubles the Rumanians most is the possible attitude of the Serbs should the Hungarians cease in a new war. They hope that in such case would threaten the Serbs. Should the Hungarians strengthen themselves by helping the monarchists in Austria, to overthrow that republic, and then join the army under Emperor Charles, the case with Serbia might be helped.

Hungary is in such a condition at present that she can't abide by the terms of the peace treaty. Two-thirds of her territory has been taken by the Czechs, Serbs, and Rumanians. The latter getting one-third. Her population has been cut from 20,000,000 to 8,000,000. These 12,000,000 under new domination are being robbed and mistreated by their new masters until many flee to Hungary proper.

This has made a big, dissatisfied population which has no money or work, or any future unless they win back their homes.

So a new war will inevitably come out of this homelessness and tired and poverty. In Slovakia the Czechs have tried to rule by arms but the locally enrolled soldiers are fleeing to the forests. Communism has been declared by workmen in the country about Kaschau. The peasants use each year in go to the plains of Hungary to till the soil and after the harvests are not now allowed to cross the frontiers. So they must starve this winter. Already they have but two pounds of bread for month. Czech speculators and market-baggers are cutting down the hardwood forests.

Should disorders break out there, it is possible that Hungarian soldiers lately mobilized at Miskolcz will cross over and then the Czechs will be driven out."

Fairy-Like Story of Rubber Shares
An Akron banker had some rubber stock a few years ago which he regarded as practically worthless. In fact, it was worse than worthless, for the reason that he was afraid that it might be assessed. He offered to sell it for 10 cents on the dollar; but it was a share and finally to get it away. He could even have sold a bonus to anybody who would take the stock off his hands. About that time the automobile came into its own and the tire industry began to boom. The stock doubled and quadrupled, and then did it all over again. Today that stock which the banker tried to give away is worth about $12.

Some Mosquito Fallacies
There has been an idea prevalent that mosquitoes thrived only in stagnant water, but it has been proven recently that while they will make a stagnant pool suited for their purposes of propagation, they prefer clean water, but the one essential seems to be that the water shall not be too active in its motion. The mosquitoes still edges of a slow stream is just what the mosquito prefers, so that when we go after the festive bazaar, we must look for him almost everywhere there is water and the oil treatment is the very best means of keeping the pest in check.

Pork Pies Prohibited by Treaty
By a clause in a special treaty concluded soon after the first Punjab war the Maharajah of Kashmir has the power—which he exercises—of prohibiting the importation into his territories of pork pies.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Fur is Popular
By Marie Stahl

Woman, lovely woman, whose every whim must be gratified—how wonderfully tempting is the presentation of fall and winter furs, luxurious and most expensive! Is there anything that one covets and craves much more than stunning furs and fur wraps, when the "cold winds, do blow?" For warmth, yes, for furs are not only decorative but how divinely satisfying they are to wear and have for one's own.

It would seem that never could there be a more extravagant fur season than was the one last year, yet there is every promise that this winter will compete very favorably if it does not exceed that of last year. It was even difficult then to supply the unusual demand for fur wraps of all kinds, which obtained, far greater prices than ever before. Even though furs seem now to be exorbitantly high in price, they are always a sensible investment, for good furs will last for a lifetime and even then may be handed down to the progeny. They may always be made over to suit the changing mode, and are as practical as any part of one's apparel. A touch of fur is like a bit of lace, it makes the costume complete, and adds that artistic, chic finish, we find so very enticing.

In the fall, before it is time to wear one's long fur wrap, the fur trimmed wraps and suits are the thing. Deep bands of the finer furs, minkskin, kolinsky and sable are used extensively for such trimming. Soft dusters and velvet wraps are extravagantly and fantastically trimmed with all of the various furs from Australian opossum to the rarer and most costly mink sable and Alaska seal.

But in the early fall for the smart tailor and frock for the street, one must have that individual touch, given by a small fur for the neck. A feeling of assurance surrounds this bit of stone marten, fisher or sable. These bits of fur are made up of either a single skin or of two or more skins, and are a fascinating detail of midday's costume.

There is nothing strikingly different in the fur wrap silhouette this season. The American woman cares very little for the extreme fitted fur garment and finds greatest comfort in either the draped dolman effects or the flaring skirted coats. Capes are also looked upon with the usual favor.

What a joy to slip a soft, glossy creation of Russian sable over the shoulders of one's street or afternoon frock. In such a marvelous wrap whole skins have been rolled and then woven basket fashion to make the cape and except for the wearing are held together at the outer edges.

A coat with deep collar and flaring skirt is made of the very finest eastern mink, the skins of which are most skillfully patched. Over the soft lining of dull rose, Ku-Koon, there is a second lining of dark brown chiffon, making the inside of the wrap as exquisitely lovely as the outside.

For the most fastidious taste there is a decidedly unusual and attractive scarf which includes two different pelts in its making. Such a one is made of snowy white caracul and red pointed fox. It fastens jauntily on one hip and boasts a long fox tail for adornment.

How really satisfying to know that when one's fur wrap is thrown carelessly back over the chair, that a full length sleeve which has again charming lining is exposed in perfect harmony with the coat? Furriers have come to realize that an attractive lining to a fur garment greatly enhances its value. The tendency toward luxurious linings for furs was noted last season, but this season when furs are even more costly, and fur garments especially distinctive, special emphasis is placed on the lining.

One exclusive designer has combined wool embroidery in a unique fashion, with brocaded ribbons, and veiled the combination with loosely shirred net. In many very handsome wraps flounces of metallic laces are used.

At the Tomb of Eve
Jeddah, selected for the meeting between Lord Allenby and the King of the Hedjaz, is a spot that should appeal to every member of the human race who possesses a spark of filial affection, for just outside the city walls of Jeddah is the traditional tomb of Eve.

Question: What do you do with your shoes when you wear them out?
Answer: I wear them back in the house again.—Boys' Life.

America's First Saint
Nearly all the formalities have been complied with for the canonization of America's first saint, in St. Marguerite of Canada. Born at Noyes, France, on April 17, 1620, Marguerite Bourgeoise went to Canada with the Sœur de Maisonneuve, founder of Montreal; his piece, the gentle Jeanne Mance, and other celebrated figures of the early days of that colony.

and during most of the eighty years of her life she struggled against adversity in the form of Indian raids, fire, famine and pestilence, to maintain a high standard of education and religious devotion among the Indians as well as the children of her fellow colonists.
She died at the old convent which she founded on St. Didier street, Montreal, on January 12, 1700. It is said that no case of canonization has ever been more rigidly examined, obstinately contested, clearly proven or impartially decided than that of the venerable foundress of her order.

Potato and Bean Crops
The potato acreage planted in the United States this year is less by five per cent than last year's. Potatoes will be high in price next year.
Even worse than the decrease in potato acreage is the falling off in the amount of land planted to beans, the bulletin says. Twenty-nine per cent, less land is planted to this nourishing vegetable than was planted last year.
Last year's potato crop was 355,000,000 bushels, or 54,000,000 bushels less than in 1918 and 83,000,000 less than in 1917, but 70,000,000 more than in 1916, the Bureau of Crop Estimate reports. The bean crop of the United States last year was about 12,000,000 bushels, about three-fifths of the size of the 1918 and 1917 crops. The indications now are that the plantings this year will be about 800,000 acres, and with an average yield of the last five years should produce a crop of 8,250,000 bushels.

ALEC STOPS TRAIN TO GET LIGHT—IS FINED

SHEPPERTON, Eng.—Because he said he didn't have enough light to read his book, Alec Monkland stopped a railway train here by the simple device of pulling the emergency bell cord. "The guard wouldn't turn on the lights," said Alec to the judge. "He said there was light enough since the sun wasn't down. I had to have more light so I pulled the string." It cost Alec $25 to stop the train and $10 to tell the guard what he thought of him.

In Her Supreme Moment, Fashion Designs Chic Hats

It must have been so, for these new hat modes for Fall could only be the product of happy inspiration. And one need not wonder whether these new styles will be becoming, for there are hats for every type of face and figure. Some are with large picturesque brims and others with no brims at all. Duvetyns and velvets are pronounced. And the trimmings! Or-trich fancies with their long graceful sweeping lines, wings, ribbons and brilliant metal embroideries give these hats smartness and exclusiveness, virtually giving every one a personality.

of AUTUMN—a Source of Infinite Inspiration for Wardrobes of Individuality

Beautiful Windows Are a Big Part of Beautiful Homes

Colorful, harmonious window hangings and draperies mean so much! They give atmosphere to the room. The most elaborate furniture is disappointing if it is not reinforced with artistic draperies. Even modest furnishings will assume a "finer tone" if drapery decoration is correct. From our large selection of rich appropriate drapery materials you can select patterns and designs that will give the right touch of color and attractiveness to your home.

Make Sure That No Notion Need Is Lacking

The most disappointing thing when one starts Fall sewing is to find some little notions or accessories missing, and sometimes this spoils a perfect day. For your convenience we have arranged a complete assortment of all notions and sewing helps. Look through them carefully to make sure that you are fully supplied.

ONE cannot see these Autumn displays without feeling the thrill of enthusiasm which accompanies a joyous fashion season. Every period of the day, every day of the week, and every occasion of coming months is vividly visualized in these selections of new modes. The styles with their "so different" lines and spirit are as exhilarating as the Autumn days on which they propose to be worn. This is an occasion worthy of "fashion sight-seeing"—an occasion too that suggests early selection for it promises style assurances and marked individuality.

Is Your Reserve of Household Linens Still Ample?

The modern housewife knows that a good substantial reserve stock of household linens is a sound business policy. This is a time when it will pay you to go carefully through your supply and see if your needs for the future are fully taken care of. There are some things you will probably wish to add to your linen chest.

New Silk Underwear

Billows of crepe de chine, georgettes and glove silks in the form of delectable night gowns, chemise, caftans, bloomers and vests greet one on all sides when visiting our Silk Underwear display. Wee rosebuds, dainty ribbons and laces make them irresistibly feminine and wholly alluring. And prices are no barriers to selection for all who hear of them proclaim them gratifyingly moderate.

Dashing Autumn Frocks for Every Our of the Day

There are frocks of wool and frocks of silk. Chemise frocks and frocks that take no coat lines. Frocks with floating panels, others with tunics and surplice bodices—almost no end to the style variation, fabrics and modes of trimming. They are refreshing to see. They show the cleverness and originality of fashion designers. And how refreshing one will appear when clothed in their charming lines.

With Such Distinctive Wraps Chilly Days Are Welcome

They are interesting to see, but you will long for the moment when you can afford to wrap yourself in one of these modes. Being made of soft fabrics, they drape remarkably well. Large collars seem to be the rule, and in very many instances they are of fur. The designers have not only originated new style lines, but have evolved many new ways of using embroidery to lend smartness and distinction to the most important garment which a woman is to wear this Fall.

The New Suits Look So Much Better When They Are Worn

You probably know that these new tailored suits with their smart lines and rich trimming are attractive. But when you have one on is really the only time when the rich color, the distinctive trimming, and the fur collars and cuffs do themselves justice. Give yourself the privilege of seeing these new modes; try on some of them; then you'll better appreciate the ultra-becomingness of the new fashions.

Full Line of Hosiery

Prices no longer prohibit quantity buying, thanks to our buyer's business sagacity and constant efforts to find good Hosiery that we could offer at notable savings. Silk, Silk and Wool, and Cotton Hosiery are included in this assortment and besides black and white one may choose from a fine variety of colorings.

INDIVIDUALITY IN BLOUSES

Is a matter of color say some modes offering as evidence vivid greens, blues and red-brown tones. Other blouses contend that tucks, frills and beads are responsible. Crepe, voile, tulle and satin blouses are included in our assortments.

GLOVES ARE A FAIR INDEX TO TASTE

That's why discriminating women always keep a fresh supply on hand. The person whose wardrobe includes a pair of sixteen-button gloves a pair of elbow length and ten or three pairs of regulation or gauntlet styles is well equipped for almost any costume or occasion demand.

Fall Styles In Women's High and Low Shoes

In this variety of fashionable dress and walking boots, pumps and oxfords every foot can be comfortably and fashionably shod and every preference successfully met. Well groomed women who wish to step out in new fall attire that is complete in every detail have the opportunity now to choose the color and leather which correctly harmonizes with the new suit or frock.

Attractive and Popular Neckwear

Neckwear need not be expensive, to give the necessary charm and chic touch to your Fall suit. In fact, much elusive appeal lies principally in the cut and whether it's quite all in back or all in front.

Tomorrow we present every pretty new style in materials that are fashionable but inexpensive.

Ribbons Lead As Trim- mings

Perhaps the difficulty in obtaining new ideas in dress trimmings this season—as well as the very obtaining of trimmings themselves—has brought ribbon for this use into most unusual favor.

Loops and loops of narrow ribbons not only gaily blow from evening and party dresses but enjoy new locations on sheer blouses and millinery. Wider widths are ideally beautiful in artistic color combinations.

FURS—The Index to Cor- rect Fashion

It may be only a choker snugly wrapped about the neck or a stole or scarf thrown over the shoulder, or a rich luxurious wrap; but fur in some form it must be, if one wishes her attire to be regarded as completely fashionable.

This store has made provision for your requirements with furs of irreproachable quality. This varied showing includes patterns of leading furriers who have used only pelts of the highest grade in developing the new modes.

CORSETS to Groom the Figure of the New Modes

It is one thing to be beautiful and another thing to look the part. A woman's natural charm and gracefulness can only be expressed through her apparel, when she has clothed her figure with a corset that will accentuate the style lines of the garment. Our Corset-ieres announce the new models for Fall. Every type of figure can be scientifically corseted here. There is a very wide selection of models, exquisitely fashioned of coutil, broche and batiste.

Veils Keep Locks from Straying

And they make the small hat appear the more provocative. Chenille dots and clever mesh effects endow them with a "different" air that is most satisfying to the discriminating woman. Those who make selections here have the assurance of the newest styles and the most worthwhile values.

Knit Underwear

Union Suits, Vests and Drawers that fit so perfectly that you are scarcely aware of their presence are the only kind worth buying. These are of Fall weight, knitted so that constant wear will not make them lose their shape.

Most Every Man Will Want At Least Some of these Fall Shirts

A good many men have run low on their shirts and they will pick out a half dozen or more. But every man ought to get one or two. They are new. The patterns and colorings are very choice. Correctly proportioned at the neckbands, shoulders and armholes with the sleeves just long enough to show a touch of color under the coat.

Fabrics That Challenge Scissors, Needles and Nimble Fingers

This showing predicts a lively sewing season, for here are materials that have anticipated everything which women want to make. Beautiful satin meteors, taffetas and crepe de chine in plain shades and flowered patterns, suggest one silk frock, blouse or skirt after another. Woolens of rich colorings and durable textures are here for that modish suit, dress or wrap. Home seamstresses will find this an occasion that will help them plan their sewing program.

BARRETT SUCCEEDED BY ROWE AS HEAD OF PAN-AMERICAN UNION

Director Retires After Fifteen Years of Service as Chief of Union

WASHINGTON—Dr. L. S. Rowe has assumed the directorship of the Pan American Union, succeeding John Barrett, who retired after 15 years service as directing head of the Union. The transfer of directorship took place in the presence of members of the Latin-American diplomatic corps, Secretary of State Coby and other high officials of the United States government.

The new director informally accepting the office declared that his policy would be to foster a smoothly operating international organization that makes for mutual confidence, good-will and above all, for the maintenance of peace.

"In entering upon the duties of director general of the Pan American Union," said Dr. Rowe, "I desire to avail myself of the earliest opportunity to say that my major purpose will be to preserve the same great international purposes that have guided my distinguished predecessors. During the last 15 years Mr. Barrett has performed such conspicuous service to the cause of continental solidarity that the Pan American Union has come to occupy a high place in the estimation of all the nations of America. Through his efforts, the unity of purposes of the peoples of America has been strengthened and they all owe to him a real debt of gratitude."

Manual service is the very cornerstone of the Pan American movement and this same idea of service permeates and vitalizes the work of the Union. Everyone connected with the organization is constantly seeking new opportunities for service and usefulness. This great international institution is the center to which the governments and peoples of the American republics turn for information. Through its agency, the fog of distrust, due to lack of acquaintance with one another, is rapidly being dispelled. The essential unity of purpose and unity of ideals of the republics of America are, with each year, becoming more evident. In this unity of purpose and of ideals there is involved a great world mission, an example of a smoothly operating international organization that makes for mutual confidence, good-will and above all, for the maintenance of peace.

"In carrying forward the work of the Union, it will be necessary to have the earnest cooperation, interest and support of the leading men and women of all the republics of this continent and I earnestly hope that I may be assured of this indispensable requisite, for the solution of the many important problems confronting the Pan American Union."

Dr. Rowe enters upon the duties of director general of the Union with an intimate knowledge of Latin-American affairs, having served as head of the State Department's division of Latin-American Affairs for some time and previous to that having been a member of various commissions for the study of Latin-American subjects. During the world war, Dr. Rowe was an assistant secretary of the Treasury. He was secretary of the second Pan American Financial Conference, which met in 1915 and of the International High Commission organization of Latin-American republics. Dr. Rowe has received degrees from a number of South American universities.

A Film of Kerosene is Sufficient

Americans generally are wasteful and extravagant in making use of materials, going on the principle that a great quantity will be more effective than a little and this does not apply always. For instance in lighting mosquitoes with oil for a very small quantity of oil is just as effective as more and in addition to this a very cheap and easily constructed device may be used to accomplish the purpose. Pick out the spot where you think might offer a desirable breeding spot and on the up-stream side of this thrust a stick into the mud with its tip protruding above the surface of the water. To this secure a discarded tomato can or some similar vessel and a length of lamp wick placed so that one end is in the bottom of the can with coal oil or some other oil of about the same consistency. Soon the surface of the water will be covered with a thin film of oil, which is fully sufficient to prevent the development of the mosquito by blocking its passage from the water, where its early stages had been spent to the air, where it hopes to fulfill its mission in life, which as far as we know at present seems to be to torture mankind. This supply of oil will last a long time, but it must be renewed, for as soon as the flow ceases the mosquitoes will get busy. This has been proven an effective method of extermination.

Preparing for Suffrage in Mexico Womanhood of Mexico is preparing for suffrage, and President Huerta says it predicts that it will not be long before the women of his country will be in possession of their full rights.

More Sedate Styles in Men's Headwear

By Wm. Fernaz

the most popular, but for this season Hudson seal is almost as expensive as the genuine seal. The costliness of furs this winter is expected to retard the popularity of fur headwear for men.

The Sardine Crop

The Vigo district in Spain furnishes almost one-fourth of the world's production of sardines. The exports of those in oil in 1918 amounted to 1,017,000 cases of 100 tins each, with an estimated total value of nearly $15,000,000.

A Link With the Past

A curious link between the present and the remote past is to be seen in St. Bartholomew's church, Great Gransden, Hunts. It takes the form of a huge grappling-hook, which, in the days of primitive fire-appliances, was used for pulling the entire thatch off the roof of a cottage in the event of fire. The shape is that of a long bar with a turned-down fork at the end, the length being sufficient for men on the ground to reach the top of the roof, and the weight so great that the strength of several men was necessary in using it.

Fourteen Years' Oil Supply

There will be bankruptcy in oil in the United States in fourteen years if the present rate of consumption continues.

Alfred I. Phillips, of the United States Bureau of Standards, so testified today before the Public Utilities Commission at a hearing to determine upon a reduction in gas standard from 600 British thermal units to a point that would still give satisfactory service.

JUDGE SHAVES IN THE COURTROOM?

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Court attaches were surprised to hear that Judge Deasy shaves himself in his courtroom. That developed when the judge reported that burglars had rifled his desk of 30 two-cent stamps, a safety razor and a pair of shears. Betting is even as to whether he cuts his own hair, too.

After Yellowstone Vandals

Yellowstone visitors are checked carefully as they enter and leave the Yellowstone Park in an effort to prevent and punish vandalism and the inscribing of one's name upon any of the natural wonders or the buildings of the park is considered vandalism. The check on visitors is so thorough that many have been stopped as they leaving the Park on account of some offense of this character during the present season.

Beneficiaries Must Pay for Irrigation Improvements

The irrigation projects that have been or are to be installed on the reservation will be paid for by the Indians who use the water. A business system in the dispensing of supplies has been installed. Work that in 1919 cost $17,000,000 of the Government's money will be done this year for $12,000,000, and the next year they plan reducing the fund another $2,250,000. Of this, $500,000 has been saved in administration.

The Color Lid Is Off In Men's Fall Haberdashery

by Michael Connie

A list of colors in vogue for fall in men's shirts and neckwear would practically include all of the primary colors of the spectrum and endless numbers of pastel and "off shade" tones. In fact the styles for this fall run the full gamut of color blending.

This might lead you to believe that the man who dresses close to fashion is going to be an emboldened kaleidoscope of radiance. Such is not the case. While a wide range of colors are included in the edicts flamboyant combinations of these are "outré" rather than ultra.

Men are still expected to dress with taste and reserve. Nothing that is too striking will ever appeal to the carefully groomed man. High colors he may adopt to give his dress relief from somberness, but an outlandish combination of high colors is taboo.

So in shirts, for instance, we see many warm colors employed and even in wide stripe effects and yet the combination of colors must blend easily rather than contrast obtrusively.

Silk shirts will be worn more this fall than they were the latter part of the spring. A great many men, even men of means, eschewed the silk shirt for awhile because they did not fancy paying from $18 to $25 for a serviceable grade. Such men went to the more moderately priced fabrics. However, a noticeable decline in the cost of silk shirts for this fall and with the prices set right good dressers will hardly resist the temptation of the rich, soft, elegance that the silk shirt offers.

The majority of men did not refrain from indulging in silk shirts solely as a matter of economy but more palpably on principle that prices were too high.

Now that the compromise is feared the silk shirt will doubtless regain a large measure of its former popularity.

If it doesn't prove true it will be due to one thing. That is the magnificent effects which have been developed in the past season in such mixture fabrics as mixed silks, fiber silks, linen and silk mixtures, satin striped mixtures and fine cord roadsters. Men who have experienced the pattern beauty possible in such shirts together with the greater serviceability may become staunch advocates of these fabrics.

However, this fall they will not be much cheaper than the silk shirts because silk has declined in cost and cotton has advanced, so if economy is the sole consideration there will be sufficient price difference to lure the natural urge toward silks.

One fashion that promises considerable vogue is the fine madras shirt with starched collar to match. Last spring before the very hot days made the starched collar uncomfortable, there was noticeable popularity for these shirts.

Such shirts were in solid colors or small patterned effects of madras, poplins or chevrons in various tones of which such colors as light blue, light pink, pale green and pongee color were most fashionable. The pattern, where they were patterned at all, were minute stripes, small checks or very small conventional designs. Most of these shirts while they had the starched collar, had the soft, negligee cuffs. These shirts will extend their popularity this season, in fact, there is already a scarcity of them and a great demand in the wholesale market.

Returning to the silk shirts, the larger pattern effects seem to have the "greatest" vogue. That is wide stripes combined with narrower striping or else the fairly wide stripe of even avenues down the shirt. Such pattern schemes are mostly found in the heavy broadcloths and jersey silk shirts. In the fine crepes and tub silks the patterns are slightly smaller and more varied. Plain white shirts in jersey, self-patterned stripes and flat weaves are also going to be very fashionable. These are exceedingly tasty with solid color, narrow knit ties of black or dark tones of blue, brown, purple, maroon or burgundy.

Shantings and pongees, while they are usually regarded as mid-summer shirts promise to extend their popularity in the early fall season.

Endless and abundant is the variety of effects shown in the fiber and overized cloths. As stated above the designers have evolved simply stunning effects both in pattern treatments and color blendings. These shirts are nearly all shown in the soft bosom and soft cuff styles and for the most part without collars to match.

The soft collar to match seems to have lost caste with the dressers, probably because of the difficulty in maintaining an even set, tidy appearance.

There is a tendency toward stiff bosom shirts in madras and percale fabrics and many of these are being shown with negligee pleats which have not been very popular for a season or two. However, these now pleated shirts may prove more popular now because the principal objection in the past was that the pleats puffed out the bosom. Such shirts are now made with pleats extending a trifle above the waistline so as to avoid this bucking up.

Flannel shirts, too, are bidding for acceptance and make a strong appeal because of the smart patterns and soft, warm textures. Many of these have collars to match and will have some vogue for sport or lounge occasions.

In neckwear the fabric is more defined than the color limitations. Knitted and crocheted scarves promise to be very strong and right alongside of them are grenadines, mogadors and foulards.

In the knit ties narrow shapes are in vogue and solid colors are placed a trifle ahead of the embroidered or cross bar schemes in the edicts.

These are shown in many rich colors, mostly in the darker tones. Where color is introduced by pattern in such ties it is of a modestly contrasting shade.

The finer silk neckwear is of imported French, Swiss, Italian, and Jap silks and mostly in neat patternings. The whole scheme of the season seems to be toward dark shades in neckwear. This is especially marked in the fine grenadine and mogador scarves. The shapes in these ties are comparatively narrow four-in-hands.

Lots of di Joinville shapes are shown in neat foulard ties. These are in dark blues and dark brown foundations with small patterns of polka dots, small figures and flowers.

Some Oriental designs in Persian and East Indian all over treatments are shown but not so profusely as in other seasons. This is in tune with the pleated bosom or even the stiff shirt style assumes any marked prominence we can expect an increasing popularity for the bow or bat wing tie. It is really anticipated and stores have stocked themselves adequately with this class of tie in small neat patternings.

In hosiery there is a slight tendency for fancier effects than have been in order in several seasons. More of the striped, checked, embroidered and leather mixture effects will be shown than ever before.

Many men are now wearing low shoes throughout the winter and with such shoes are wearing heavy worsted wool, cashmere or camel's hair hosiery. These fabrics lend themselves beautifully to various pattern schemes and men have so long confined their hosiery to monotone effects that the relief is apt to be welcomed.

Even in the silk hose and fine line more clocks, stripes, and accordion effects are displayed than ever before. Solid colors will of course retain a strong following as the style is too refined and sedate to lose a great deal of ground. The color range in these remains as heretofore—black, blue, brown, gray, green, pearl, lavender, burgundy champagne and off shades. In the wool and worsted sock heater mixtures are very popular.

In underwear and night wear not much new is advanced. Comfort has pretty well standardized the models and the textures employed.

In handkerchiefs patterned effects, borders and colored monograms or initials are to some extent displacing the plain white.

A fancy white handkerchief for the upper breast pocket is an old style revived and good dressers are taking it with much favor. Near colored borders in fine linen handkerchiefs are also much in vogue and small stripes across the field are also stylish.

In gloves the vogue remains for mocha, cape and buckskin in the order named with suede closely following. Both plain and embroidered backs or spear designs are approved. No radically new shades are submitted.

Collars offer a wide choice of selection. The outstanding features in the fall styles is toward less area of folds and closer set fronts.

Many stiff collars are shown with self patterns of neat stripes and figures. A new note which promises popularity is semi-soft, flexible plique collar of narrow ridge design.

Wonderful Asphalt Lake

The asphalt lake of Trinidad is situated at Brighton, 12 miles west of San Fernando, 27 miles south of Port of Spain and about half a mile from the gulf of Paria. The lake itself is a flat area of approximately 120 acres, forming a basin surrounded by a low hill. The original elevation of the lake surface was 137 1-2 feet above sea level, but mining operations had lowered this elevation to about 130 feet in 1913.

Romantic Bohemia

All Bohemia is a land of romance in the hills and mountains there are picturesque castles perched upon the craggy mountains or concealed cleverly in rocky clefts. The very name Bohemia is associated with wild and wonderful legends of the rude barbaric ages. It has been the battle ground of nations. Today it is the land of story and legend, as in the olden days it was the land of loyal knights and robber barons.—Youth's Companion.

Climate and Longevity

The general death-rate is found to increase with rising temperature and to diminish with a falling thermometer. These conclusions are a result of a study of about 400,000 deaths in New York in connection with the weather on the day of the death. The peculiarities seem to apply to all seasons. Variety, as in English or Canadian weather, is healthful and stimulating, and it is believed that some variability is as essential as proper humidity.

Could Be Better

A writer says it was probably a bagpipe instead of a fiddle that Nero played while Rome was burning, taking this position presumably on the fact that nearly all historians agree the music was rotten. It is for this reason we have stuck to the fiddle theory. Nero was a punk musician, and walls of the bagpipe are awakens itself compared to the sound of the violin in the hands of a well-meaning amateur.

GREATER COMFORT FOR IMMIGRANTS PLAN OF WALLIS

Sweeping Changes to be Made at Ellis Island Station by New Director

ASKS REMOVAL OF RADICALS
HELD AT THE STATION

Should be Deported Declares
Commissioner

NEW YORK—Sweeping changes are being made at America's gateway—Ellis Island—by Immigration Commissioner Frederick A. Wallis, who proposes to make the big immigration station more comfortable for the newcomers to the United States.

Freedom and sunshine is being planned for the new arrivals by the commissioner who has just announced plans for improving conditions in general on the island. Larger buildings are to be added, he said, sanitary conditions improved, additional cots provided for those unable to get beds and many other conveniences for the immigrant are to be installed.

Kind and decent treatment for all new arrivals has been demanded by Commissioner Wallis who has already announced the discharge of some of the alien detainees for alleged harshness or inefficiency in receiving immigrants. Their places have been filled by more courteous, attentive and younger men.

It is proposed to make this receiving station representative of all American ports," he said.

Commissioner Wallis asserted that he planned to install baths at the island in order that every individual entering the country will be given a bath and have his clothes sterilized before he enters the station.

"They made our soldiers do this," he said, "so why not make our immigrants. This will be a big step toward preventing disease from entering our gates and will have a great moral and physiological effect."

One of the latest improvements by Commissioner Wallis has been the supplying warm milk to mothers with babies. This was done as soon as the commissioner learned that chilled milk made the infants sick.

When he learned that hundreds of immigrants were jammed in the detention pens the commissioner ordered the liberation of the occupants and gave them the freedom of the large examination hall.

Commissioner Wallis has appealed to Washington to remove the alleged radicals and anarchists detained at the island for deportation, because of crowded conditions at the immigration station.

"They are a defiant lot and should be deported," he said. "They occupy a room that could accommodate a couple of hundred immigrants."

Railroads have also been asked by the commissioner to provide better transportation facilities for the immigrants and stop employees from "grafting" from the newcomers. He also wants them to be properly fed while being detained for entrainment.

While funds are not immediately available for improvements at the island, Commissioner Wallis said, he will ask Congress to provide the money. He said that he had already asked permission to raise funds by public subscription if the necessary money could not be provided by the government.

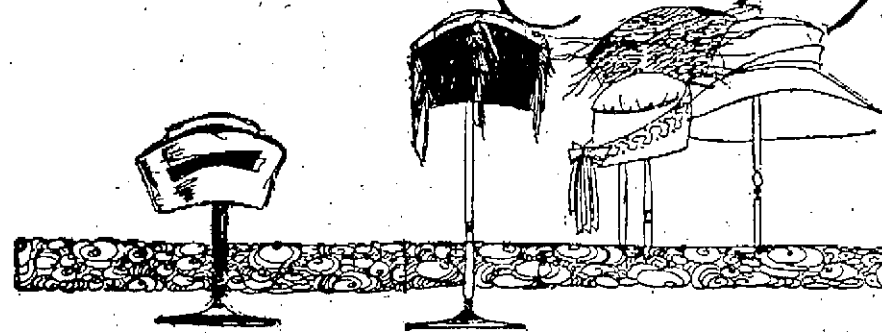

PHILIPPINE COAL TO BE MINED

Signs of industrial expansion in the Philippine Islands are seen in the recent formation of a company which is developing the Cebu coal mines as well as those in Mindanao. It is expected that within a comparatively short time the output of these two islands will be sufficient to supply the needs of the whole archipelago as regards good steam coal.

The Mindanao product, which comes from what is known as the Sibuyan coal field, is claimed on the one hand to be superior to any other Philippine coal or any coal imported into the islands, while, on the other hand, it is said to be liable to deterioration if not used promptly, and to be probably of a quality more comparable to German coal.

Distinctive Fall Millinery

After the strenuous summer days, how gratefully one comes back to prepare for the more restful fall and winter season. One's first thought is of the new wardrobe, and first to be considered for that are the new chapeaus necessary for daytime and evening wear. It is never too early to plan one's hats for the season. It is a subject to be thought of long and seriously, for is it not true that a woman's hat can make or mar her look as if it had been placed on a head by the hand of Fate, and not as if it had been blown hither and thither, alighting on just the wrong head.

Fascinating, indeed, is the prospect of choosing one or more hats from the enticing, though bewildering array in the hat shop this fall. There are those delightful soft little hand-made affairs of gaily colored duvetyne, or velour for early fall sports wear, and for walking and driving the silk fabric hats, and later the latter's plush seem to be greatly favored. While for evening wear, there is the large picture hat of the finest velvet, or one of those airy transparent bits of lace and tulle worn so much by the ingenue type. Never before has one's choice seemed so unlimited as it is this fall. Even the most fastidious will have no trouble in finding among the innumerable artistically made hats, the one designed to suit her individual type.

To brighten the duller moments of an autumn day, there are the smart little duvetyne and velour hats worn for almost any occasion, very gay in color and soft and jaunty in shape. Jade green has been revived for these fall hats, and also the soft tans, henna, an occasional bright red and lovely turquoise blue are much used. Duvetyne is perhaps the most striking note this fall, but besides the brilliantly colored models to be worn very early, there are the darker grayish brown, soft dull henna and the always proverbial navy blue, which will be featured later in the season.

What sub-dub would not delight in one of these charming models of butterfly colored duvetyne. This hat has a small round crown and an alluring uplighted brim composed of two bonillones, the second of which is very fall, on either side of the hat is a perky little bow of corded silk ribbon, the one on the right being placed lower than the other, and ending with a silk fringe, which falls softly over the hair in a most becoming fashion.

The use of sectional crowns of duvetyne is interesting. Such crowns are very often used in combination with taffeta, taking from the heavy effect of an all duvetyne hat. In some instances these are combined with roll brims of taffeta, closely hemstitched, each roll of hemstitching wired to attain the roll effect.

This fall will be quite incomplete without a taffeta hat, which adds so much to one's smart tailleur. An entrancing model in gold brown displays becoming points, around which folds rich brown silk braid, bright with golden threads. A distinctly new note is found in the use of baronette satin in making hats. How completely satisfying are these, charmingly simple in design, made up usually in off the face effects, and trimmed with just a spray of uncurled ostrich.

It is interesting to know that wide moire ribbons are being used for fall hats. Often in brown combined with natural color chamois; they are most attractive. The moire is used for the top of the hat with chamois facing it, with tiny brass eyelets making a unique design over the entire surface.

For evening wear a picture shape of rich black velvet droops low on the side to show the profile in relief, and as the only trimming, a soft loop of ribbon coming through a buttonhole in the brim is shown. Very Egyptian and quite regal is a bright blue evening turban with feathery breasts encircling the matching crown of tulle, and with the blue fronds of osprey in the front rising like a diadem from the face.

Diplomacy Robbed of Its Dazzle

The Mexican diplomats and envoys have always been given to particularly gorgeous uniforms but the present administration is about to inaugurate a complete reform in this particular, and swing back to extreme simplicity.

MEXICO PLANS THE PURCHASE OF WAR SHIPS FROM U. S.

Considering the Addition of Two Gunboats and Six Destroyers to Navy

MEXICO CITY.—Purchase of two gunboats and six destroyers is being considered by the Mexican government, according to General Plutarco Elias Calles, secretary of war and marine.

"I understand that destroyers can be bought from the United States government for $20,000 each," General Calles told a group of newspapermen recently. "In view of the success with which these small craft were used during the war, I believe that it would be advisable for the Mexican government to buy three for the Atlantic service and three for the Pacific."

General Calles and his staff are at work on a plan for universal military service, with which it is expected that the determined figure of 50,000 soldiers can be raised.

"I believe that the best military age is from 21 to 22 years," the war minister said. "At this age men are least selfish and best able to get along with each other, regardless of the walks of life from which they come."

In the meanwhile, General Calles added, "the mustering out of troops is progressing briskly and thousands of soldiers are being returned to civil life, where the government believes that they can best serve their country by tilling the farm and manning the factories. The privates and the higher officers are co-operating in the movement, it is said, the only opposition coming from a few petty chiefs."

Early Greeks and Romans had a well-defined regulation of banks.

Hijou—Frank Mayo in "The Red Lane".

LA CROSSE
Every woman loves beautiful gowns and in "Everywoman" the film version of the famous morality play, which opened at the La Crosse Monday for a four day run, a multitude of the most modern creations are shown. In the opening of the picture before it becomes a symbolical story of life itself, a bazaar is shown that is declared to be a veritable fashion show. The gowns are exquisite and of a varying character. Evening gowns of the finest materials are features of the gambling room, palace of wealth, and other ornate scenes.

MAJESTIC
Mrs. Ballie Reynolds' widely read story, "The Notorious Miss Lisle" has been dramatized into a gripping photoplay with Katherine MacDonald in the leading role.
The picture which opens at the Majestic tomorrow, is a story of Gaenor Lisle (Miss MacDonald) prominent in English society, and more prominent in the light of a certain divorce scandal. Her father, a British army officer, takes Gaenor to quaint Brittany to avoid the notoriety that his daughter has stirred. In Brittany Gaenor meets Peter Garsen, a tourist.
Garsen knows nothing of Gaenor's newspaper popularity, and falls in love with her. Gaenor's parents are only too happy to find the opportunity to cloak the family name under the cover of matrimony, and urge Gaenor to marry him. On a trip to the site of some ancient island ruins, Gaenor and Garsen are marooned on an island; cut off from the main shore by the sudden rising of the tide. Complications arise and the finger of scorn points at her, but it all ends well.
Larry Semon in "The Head Waiter" one of his funniest comedies and the Beyerstedt's Incomparable Orchestra in brand new selections, complete the bill. Last times today Bert Lytell in "Alias Jimmy Valentine".

CASINO
Mary Miles Minter in "Rosemary Climbs The Heights" is at the Casino for the last time today. The story deals with a wife who is taken in by a wealthy man and educated. During the years that pass the child becomes a wonderful violinist and with her splendid personality finally reaches stardom. Before reaching stardom she meets with misfortune which brings about a climax that is hard to beat. To see it is to appreciate it. Tomorrow Monte Sallourey in "The Light of Victory".

HIJOU
It is always intensely interesting to see how a book that one has admired fares when it reaches the hands of the picture producer.
"The Honey Bee" that opened at the Hijou today is a story of unusual theme, fascinating character studies and an extra ordinary appeal. A story of a woman in revolt against her empty, loveless, childless life. Millions found it an entertaining story, by giving the brain cells something to do and also at times wringing the corners of the mouth.
The story has been well cast and is chock full of heart throbs and thrills. The cast includes: Mme. Marguerita Sylva, Thomas Holding, Nigel Barry, Albert Ray and Kid McCoy.

STRAND
Charles Ray in "Hayfoot-Strawfoot" is the attraction at the Strand. This story gives Mr. Ray a chance to bring to life on the screen another one of his impersonations. This picture is his impersonation of a girl in the situation in regard to the girl in the case is very comical. No comedy needed with this picture.

RIALTO
The return to La Crosse of "The Red Lane" was expected as when this picture played in one of the downtown houses it was packed each night. It will be at the Rialto for tonight only. It is a good picture for lovers of an outdoor picture, with a little first interest mixed in to make it interesting. Pastel drawings first appeared in the seventeenth century.

MILLERAND SLATED FOR PRESIDENT IF DESCHANEL RETIRES

Premier May be Induced to Accept; President to Resign on Account of Ill Health

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Alexander E. Millerand, French premier and foreign minister, is prominently mentioned as the next president of the French republic because of ill-health, says the Paris Echo. Some of M. Millerand's friends declare he will refuse to become a candidate, but, nevertheless, there is a tendency to believe he may be induced to accept.

Should he refuse, there are other prominent men who might enter the campaign. Among them are Charles C. A. Journef, extraordinary ambassador to the Vatican; Raoul Peret, president of the chamber of deputies; Leon Bourgeois, president of the senate; Alexandre E. Ribot, former premier; Jules Pams, former minister of the interior and Georges Leygues, former minister of marine.

Notwithstanding his long rest and treatment by specialists, the Figaro declares President Deschanel is unable fully to discharge the duties of his high office, and it is said he himself feels he cannot longer continue to assume the trust with which he has been invested. Nothing is known as to how he will carry out his resignation to resign, but the cabinet will have to consider, perhaps this week, the summoning of the national assembly, the newspaper asserts.

YANKS CONFESS TO THEFTS—OF NEAR EAST SUPPLIES.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 15.—By the Associated Press.—Six former American soldiers who have been arrested in connection with thefts of supplies from the American committee for relief in the Near East, have virtually confessed and have promised to tell all they know in the hope that leniency will be shown them, according to officials investigating. The thefts are said to total hundreds of thousands of dollars.

FARMERS PLAN CO-OP LIVESTOCK CONCERNS AT THE STOCKYARDS

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 15.—Approval of plans to establish co-operative livestock commission companies at the Chicago and St. Louis stock yards was voted at a meeting of the executive committee of the Illinois Agricultural association, it was announced today. The Illinois farm bureau; it was announced, plans to join the movement with bureaus and other farmers' organizations in the middle west.

A special committee which would be named by the American farm bureau federation and other farmers' organizations, according to plans, will investigate whether advantages of a co-operative sales organization at the livestock markets will outweigh difficulties involved.

MAIL FLYERS KILLED.
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—Air mail pilot Walter Stevens and Mechanician Russell Thomas, both of Cleveland, were burned to death at three o'clock today, when the plane caught fire at an altitude of 500 feet at Pemberville, Ohio, fifteen miles south of Toledo.

Cells in waists' nests are in single layers instead of two as with higher bees.

NINE INCH SKIRT IS THE LAST WORD FOR LOCAL WOMEN

La Crosse Authority on Fashions
Tells How They Will Wear
Them This Fall

STRAIGHT LINE DRESSES
ARE STILL VERY POPULAR

Coat Wraps Coming in all Sorts of Styles for Autumn

They may be wearing 'em higher 'over there' but milady won't over here, according to a La Crosse authority on styles. At least the local fashion experts are authority for the statement that skirts that come within nine inches of the floor will be considered both good style and form this season.

There is no radical change in the garment of this fall. Perhaps the most striking feature of the latest creations is the beautiful use of beads and embroidery. All wool dresses have a few beads or embroidery upon them some place. Perhaps it is just the cuffs or collar that are embroidered. Again it may be a beautiful bead or embroidery design covering the entire front.

The straight line dresses in the wool are still in vogue while the silk dresses have a tendency to the long waist line effect. A few of the new silks made into dresses are Canton, Kitten's Ear, while the Charmuse are still popular.

The coat wrap has been in for several seasons but never as popular as it is at the present time. They are made up in almost all of the heavier materials with large, luxurious collars and cuffs of fur. In fact fur trimmings are as popular this year as ever before. For the more conservative women the straight line coats are shown with and without the fur collars. The most popular materials for coats are the velours, silvertones, goldtones, Chamoisene, Veldyne, Orlanda, Livera, Peach Bloom and the ever-popular plush.

A few new things are being shown in the suits this season but the majority of suits are very much on the same lines as in previous seasons. Embroidery and furs are used in the way of trimming. Furs are used extensively on collars and cuffs, pockets and in bands about the bottom.

A few short models are shown for the woman or Miss who wants novelty attire but the majority of suits range in length from 33 to 45 inches. Skirts of the suits are about the same in width but are often worn shorter. Nine inches from the ground is considered a good length.

Georgette is still popular as a blouse material. A few satins and taffetas are being shown with trimmings of tricolettes, beads and embroidery.

Smith: They are making some fine hosiery these days.

BRITAIN TO SELL GERMAN SHIPS TO FORMER OWNERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Great Britain has under consideration the sale of forty former German liners and a number of cargo vessels to their former owners according to advices from London.

The sale of the ships which were awarded the British by the reparations commission practically has been decided upon, these advices say, but definite action has been held up until existing law can be modified so as to permit of the sale of the craft to the Germans.

Ride Farther on Goodyear Tires in Your Small Car

It is tire performance, not price, that decides what you really pay; hence, do not experiment with tires made to sell at sensationally low prices.

You can secure in Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3, 30 x 3½ and 31 x 4-inch sizes, a high relative value not exceeded even in the famous Goodyear Cord Tires on the world's finest automobiles.

Goodyear experience and care are applied to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires; take advantage of the opportunity to get true Goodyear mileage and economy.

CONFERENCE TEAMS OPEN PRACTICE FOR GRIDIRON CAMPAIGN

Largest Squads in Years Respond in Big Ten Conference Says Report

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 15.—Football, the most popular of college sports, will come into its own in the Western conference today with the opening of the practice season for the fall gridiron campaign.

Reports from universities in the Big Ten indicated the largest squads in years responded to the call. The teams with the possible exception of Northwestern and Purdue, will be made up of veteran players of known ability.

Illinois, winner of the 1937 championship, will start the season well fortified with veterans. John Depler, an all-Western center, will captain the eleven. Ohio State runner-up in the championship race, will build its 1938 machine around "Pete" Stinchcomb, who the coaches regard as a second Chick Harley. Stinchcomb was regarded as one of the best quarterbacks in the last season.

Iowa and Minnesota promise to develop formidable teams. The Minnesota appear the brightest in years and a heavy and fast line with a speedy back field seems assured. Iowa will have the Devine brothers as its principal assets.

With the eligibility of Frank Steketee, all-American full-back in 1937, raised, Michigan promises to be in the field with a husky team of veterans. Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago has back-field material of ability from which to make his selection. The team will be captained by "Red" Jackson, one of the best forwards ever developed at Chicago.

The first game of the season is slated for September 25, when Indiana will take the field against Franklin College at Bloomington. The other teams in conference will swing into action a week later.

"QUACK" "QUACK"

With the opening of the duck season at midnight tonight, the early morning hours will find many a hunter equipped with "old trusty," showing off for some favorite spot in the regions about La Crosse in search of "quacks." Licensees selling at $3.50 per, and shells at $1.50, had no effect on the number that will go forth tomorrow for the initial bag. Several boys in the back room have promised to display the fruits of the first "shoot" in the front window tomorrow, in order that the less fortunate may have a "close up" view of what is possible.

GOING WEST

ST. PAUL.—Johnny Timan is going to the Pacific Coast for three fights. He'll first show in Portland and then drop down into California's four-round game.

WINONA GRAPPLER READY TO MEET WEBBER ANY TIME

Thor Jensen, 145 pound welterweight champion of the United States, dropped in after completing a tour throughout the west and middle west to seek a finish go with Jack Webber. Jensen, who hails from Winona, is a challenger for the championship of the world and is open to meet anyone up to and within the 185 pound limit. Arrangements will no doubt be made for the match between Webber and Reynolds shortly after September 20, when Webber meets Reynolds here.

SPEED TRIALS FOR LAKE GEORGE TROPHY ENDS REGATTA TODAY

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15.—The one mile speed trials for the Lake George trophy brought the Gold cup regatta to a close here today. Each contestant, including Garwood's Miss America, which yesterday established a new world's speed record of 71.43 miles an hour on the five-mile circular course, was allowed six trials. The course was straight-way, three trials up-stream and three trials down the best average time for the six trials determining the winner.
